Temple President Ann Meyers writes: "A major desire of mine is to form a robust and active committee charged with helping our efforts to attract new members, retain current members and enliven the engagement of members who've drifted away from the core of community life for one reason or another."

LET CANTOR MARTIN KNOW: Do you know a Temple member who is ill or in need of spiritual support of any kind (i.e. loss of job, divorce, difficult life transitions, etc.)? You can contact Cantor Martin at spiritualleader@waukeshatemple.org or 608-698-4363.

CANTOR DEBORAH MARTIN / From our Spiritual Leader's desk

It's Been a Year of Physical and Spiritual Growth and Learning

It is hard to believe that I have just finished my first year at CEEW. For me, this year was a combination of observing the culture and customs of CEEW, while trying to give new and stimulating services, programs and holiday ideas. I am relying on your feedback to see where you thought things were a success and where they can be improved.

We have MANY activities happening through Meetup for congregants of ALL ages, so please sign up and find out about all the fun events that we can share together! One thing that I also want to point out is that we will be observing Tisha B'Av on August 13th with the other Jewish congregations, so please put that date on your calendar.

I'd like to highlight some things that were accomplished last year: Youth High Holy Day services; a Slichot service and Yizkor services; more inter-generational programming, (Purim, Pesach, Yom Hashoah and Yom Haatzmaut). We did a lot of outreach in the community as well, in order to attract new members. We are using social media much more, such as Facebook, Meetup, our website, etc. Many thanks to Mark Levy, Marie Loeffler, Jan Lowell and Rick Steinberg for their help with all of this. Many thanks to Lee Fensin for getting information about our events to the Jewish chronicle and other local newspapers as well!

We have also been involved with Interfaith programs, such as involvement with the Brookfield-Elm Grove Interfaith Network (BEGIN), including the start of a Youth BEGIN group, an Interfaith Thanksgiving at the Brookfield Mosque (at which I spoke) and a Sukkot program with the Mosque. I have also been actively involved with the B'nai Mitzvah students and their parents, helping students write Divrei Torah speeches and prepare for their ceremonies. Along those lines, I worked in the school and developed a more comprehensive Confirmation class where Joe Dailey and I co-taught both ethics and Jewish text, culminating in a meaningful Confirmation service on June 10th. We had a lovely Picnic Shabbat on June 17th at Frame Park and, by popular demand, will have another one on July 15th. I have done pastoral work in the hospitals and at hospice, adding shivah or memorial services for those who wish to have them. We rejoiced as six people converted to Judaism, four of whom have remained active at CEEW, becoming valuable members of our community!

Happily, as of July 1st, I will be done with my half time job in Madison at Temple Beth El. I am very much looking forward to having more time to concentrate my efforts for CEEW and I predict another very exciting year ahead.

For next year, I would like to start participating in the Religious School on a weekly basis and visiting the students more often. I would like us to develop a Hebrew curriculum that could be learned on line with the access of a teacher correcting their homework, along with an actual Hebrew school session during the week for those who can attend. I will be working with YEC and the new PTO to find out what our families want and how to develop it. I will be writing a new comprehensive B'nai Mitzvah handbook. I would love to develop a Confirmation curriculum that goes for three years, culminating with the Confirmation service in 10th grade. Within those three years, we will train our students to become teachers' aids and then teachers in our classrooms. I'd like to go on a class trip with our students in 10th grade. I would like to have more programs for Interfaith couples / families. I will be starting an intro to Judaism and a Biblical Hebrew / prayer book Hebrew class with the option to have a Bar/Bat Mitzvah.

I have been very fortunate to have our Principal, Phil Musickant, my "partner in the Divine", helping me to understand what has happened and worked in the past. I have thrown a LOT of new things at him this year, but he has taken it with good humor and great thought, as well as a lot of hard work! It has been a pleasure to work with him this year, and I look forward to working with him next year and beyond!

I have also been very fortunate to have our very competent Administrator, Marcy Hotz, helping me with the nuts and bolts and organization of the Temple details. She has been incredibly helpful by sending out letters, writing notices, keeping track of yahrzeits and people who are ill, making up booklets for holidays, and the list could go on and on. She is my right-hand woman, and I was able to do so much more clergy work because she was there to help me with everything else.

Although they are too numerous to name them all, we have incredible volunteers in this congregation! The dedication and warmth of our congregants are unbelievable and I want to thank everyone, whether it is the teachers and parents in the school or individual congregants. They make the building run smoothly, plan and implement programming for our congregants, organize Soup-er Shabbats on the first Friday of the month, do holiday planning, adult programming, etc., etc., etc. The Temple could not do half as much without so many fabulous people pitching in!

We have been extremely fortunate to

VOLUNTEERS of the MONTH

Since NATE and ELLY KRAINES joined on May 1, 1966, Congregation Emanu-El of Waukesha has been blessed by their generosity — generous with donations, time, energy, expertise, ideas and friendship.

We will be highlighting our member volunteers on a monthly basis. This month our volunteers of the month is the Brookfield couple. Below are some highlights of what they have done since joining the temple 50 years ago:

NATE

- ◆ When something needs to be fixed, he either fixes it, tells others how to do it or hires a professional.
- ◆ Founded the food drive for the Food Pantry. Took van full of food there for years.
- ◆ President of the congregation for three years, treasurer for seven years.
- ◆ Currently on the Finance Committee and Personnel Committee.
- ◆ Superintendent on the construction job of both renovation expansion projects of the Temple. Waukesha required landscaping, so he headed the project where the members bought each piece of the landscaping.
- ◆ The first to suggest the expansion of the Temple (second project.). The Kraines and Merkow families seeded that project.

ELLY

- ◆ Twice was treasurer of the congregation for a combined 15 years, starting in the early 1970s.
- ◆ Seder chairman for several years. Helped take in the food on Yom Kippur for break-the-fast, warming it up, etc.
- ◆ Membership Chair for a year or two.
- ◆ Chair of a special dinner for Rabbi Adams.
- ◆ Organized the Dining Group for the past 10 years, making newer members welcome socially. Elly makes all the arrangements.

have Ann Meyers as the President of the Board of Directors at CEEW. We have worked hand in hand and she has helped me to know where she sees the congregation going and what changes need to happen in order to get there. I have enjoyed working with her immensely and the congregation is very lucky to have someone who is so passionate about helping CEEW be a vibrant and caring community that is growing both in size and in purpose. We are working as partners for the betterment of this congregation. Our entire board is made up of caring congregants who are spending a lot of time and energy to improve and maintain the physical and spiritual aspects of the congregation. It has been a great pleasure to work with every one of them and I want to thank them for their hard work and commitment to CEEW this past year.

Lastly, I thank you! Every single congregant, young and old, who make us who we are: a caring community for those who are grieving or in need of support; a community which believes in excellence in education, meaningful worship, joyous celebration of holidays; a community which finds social justice by doing mitzvahs in the community and practices tikkun olam, the repair of the world. Together we are stronger, using our individual God-given talents to contribute to this congregation. Friends of mine, who have come to visit us, marvel at the warmth and welcome that they have received from you. May we move into the next year together from strength to strength as we support each other and our congregation. Kein yehi ratzon: may this be God's will.

WEATHER CLOSINGS: Weather related (and other) closings at the synagogue will be posted on WTMJ TV4 (Channel 4) and WISN-TV (Channel 12).

Lazy Days of Summer – NOT! Our thoughts turn to preparation for autumn

Once again, in the middle of summer's heat, thoughts turn to cooler days. It is a challenge to penetrate the haze to see what lies ahead, but the next school year is only months away!

Summer may seem like a lazy time for teachers (and principals), but it is not! Schools can be compared to live theater: when the curtain goes up, everything has to be ready. That means the teachers and I will meet to discuss curriculum, the calendar and new ideas to consider. For me, it means meeting with Cantor Martin and the YEC co-chairs Andi Patz and Aaron Sulman, making sure that the rooms are ready and inventorying books and supplies. There are also many documents that must be updated (e.g. the calendar, the registration forms and Opening Parent Letter).

On June 7th, Cantor Martin, Marsha Fensin and I met with the director of the religious school of Temple Beth El in Madison and came away with many ideas. On June 21st, I met with my fellow education directors from Congregations Shalom, Sinai, Emanu-El B'Nai Jeshuran, Beth Israel Ner Tamid and Shir Chadash for a three-hour seminar on project-based learning.

In mid-August, please look for my welcome-back letter and registration information for the Sunday and mid-week Hebrew programs. The school calendar will have 29 sessions (including the volunteer session in early November). The school year will begin Sept. 18th. We will have our parent meeting the second session, and I again am asking all parents to stay for a bagel breakfast, followed by the parent meeting.

We are looking forward to an exciting year! The teachers are committed, creative and energetic and the Youth Education Committee is active and engaged. The synagogue Board of Trustees and the general membership are very supportive of the school program!

With all of the summer activities, please don't forget about making a Shabbat meal on Friday nights and attending services, too! Please consider sponsoring an oneg Shabbat. Finally, the month of Elul begins September 4th. This month is considered the most important month of the Jewish calendar because it precedes the New Year and Yom Kippur. It is during Elul that people should be preparing themselves for a better year ahead. The sages explain that the New Year falls at a time when the world is transitioning away from the intense heat and light of summer toward shorter days and less light, that we should turn from summer fun to more serious thoughts. Have a safe and enjoyable summer, but look to prepare for the New Year, too!

Students bury time capsule

By Lori Fisher

1st / 2nd-grade Teacher

My 1st / 2nd-grade class, with help from some younger and older students, buried a time capsule on the last day of Religious School.

The idea came when I was teaching about lifecycles to my class. I thought, "How wonderful it would be to have the memories of these students kept and preserved for others to see."

Therefore, with the help of the families who provided the container in which the capsule would be stored as well as photographs of their children, the time capsule and its growth continued. Inside the time capsule is artwork, a copy of the class Friday night service, a copy of a temple bulletin, more photographs and written work describing the year and the classroom.

With the help of Principal, Phil Musickant, and a few other students from other classes, the capsule was buried with a declaration to be kept in the archives in the temple that states it cannot be opened until 2036. The students were all very excited to be a part of this process.

Thank you to Ann Meyers for helping to find a spot appropri-

MEETUP FUN

IS NEW FOR US

Get together with friends from synagogue, and make new friends from community

By Ann Meyers
Synagogue President

I thought summer was supposed to be a laid-back, relaxed time of year. It seems I'm quite mistaken, at least when it comes to Congregation Emanu-El of Waukesha. As I write this, August is looking a little light on activities, but if recent patterns are any indications, that'll change shortly.

The board's Web Initiative project kicked off this year. If you've seen our Facebook page, which is rapidly developing into a lively window into CEEW, you've seen one aspect of that initiative. Refreshing our website is on the list, too.

But the project that has taken off like a rocket is the Meetup page, organized by Marie Loefler, Rick Steinberg and Ian Schulman. It's an easy place to make connections to social and learning activities.

We know there are many individuals and families in western Milwaukee County and around Waukesha County looking for other Jews to meet and, perhaps, a temple to affiliate with. Meetup affords them an opportunity to find us.

For instance, if you're interested in opera, why not meet at the local movie theater to catch the broadcast of the Metropolitan Opera's production of La Bohème?

Just click a virtual button to say you'll be there, show up, pay for your own ticket and enjoy the event with temple friends.

If you've been bemoaning the lack of activities for your child's age group, Meetup is a way of putting together a quick activity with little energy. A great movie is out? Why not reserve the party room at the theater, put it on the temple Meetup page, and let the fun begin. When the new indoor go-cart venue opens soon, the Meetup page would be a great way to get a group together to enjoy an afternoon there. Let the organizers know and it can be posted.

As of June 10th, we had 27 people signed up, some of whom are non-members interested in our community.

ADULT BIKING

When: 2 p.m. Sunday, July 10th

Where: on Glacial Drumlin Trail. We will meet at Mama D's cafe: 104 W. Main St., Wales, (262)968-3500. The cafe is located right off the trail, and there is parking between the trail and cafe.

What: 5 miles up the trail and 5 miles back to the café. The trail is marked.

Cost: Participants can rent a bike with helmet included for $20 for 4 hours or $10/per hour. Renters must be 16 or older. The cafe has 6 to 10 bikes available to rent.

OPERA

When: 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 13th for dinner and a pre-talk by Jeff Shabman. The show starts at 7 p.m.

Where: Marcus Majestic in Brookfield

What: La Bohème. Live in HD Summer Encore series. Puccini's moving story of young love is the most performed opera in Met history.

PICNIC SHABBAT

When: 5 p.m. Friday, July 15th

Where: Frame Park picnic shelter by playground

What: 5 p.m. for those who want to schmooze, boat or play a sport, then 6 p.m. will be candles, Kiddush and bring-your-own picnic dinner. Service: 6:30 p.m.

ALSO

Intergenerational Mini-Golf: Thursday, July 28th. ... State Fair Intergenerational Dinner:

State Fair Park in West Allis: Sunday, Aug. 7th (meet at 5 p.m. at spot TBA) ... Adult Hiking: Lapham Peak on County Road C in Delafield, 10 a.m. to noon Sunday, Aug. 21st ...

Waukesha Friday Night Live: Aug. 26th – 5:30 p.m. dinner and brief service at Thunder Bay Grill. Car pool to downtown Waukesha for live music and fun..

CHANGE OF ADDRESS: Any change of address for bulletin mailings should be emailed to Jan Lowell (jlowell@bddonline.com).

ANN MEYERS / From our President

CEEW working to become social, thriving religious community

As was reported in June, the Board of Trustees met in May to clarify goals for the coming year, and at the Annual Meeting, progress was made toward creating vehicles for achieving those goals. We formally created our Endowment Committee, which will foster the growth of a fund to ensure our financial stability. We created a new membership category, Associate Member, so that aspiring converts can have a formal status in our community as they study to enter a covenant with the Jewish people. We enacted a budget that, while still in deficit, extends our spiritual leader's relationship with us and continues to provide some administrative assistance to her.

A major desire of mine is to form a robust and active committee charged with helping our efforts to attract new members, retain current members and enliven the engagement of members who've drifted away from the core of community life for one reason or another. To label this the "Membership Committee" wouldn't do it justice, but I don't currently have a better name for this group which, I hope, will be composed of members of all ages (teens are needed too!). Since the record-keeping aspects of membership are mostly handled by the treasurer on the computer, it's the more relational aspects of the task that need nurturing. If you'd like to be involved in welcoming, social or other activities geared to establishing or improving connections among members, or building connections between non-members and our temple, we need you! Please contact me for details.

Many times, efforts we make overlap. A good example is coming up on July 9th: the "FUN-draising Dinners." Stacie Young brought this wonderful idea to us from her former temple. It merges a social evening of dinner with the spirituality of Havdalah, and provides a financial benefit for the temple. Those who wish only to have dessert and Havdalah can do so for a smaller contribution. We're

What's Up With Meetup?

By Marie Loeffler

Our inaugural Frisbee Golf Meetup on June 12th was a success.

Five synagogue members — Cantor Martin, Marie Loeffler, Rick Steinberg and Marc and Judy Schneider — plus nine community members had fun with great company at the Wales Community Park.

After nine holes that progressed from easy to intermediate levels of difficulty, the group decided it was time to eat. We all shared a light lunch generously put together by Rick. We have our eyes on finishing the last nine holes of 18.

If you'd like to join us on the challenging part of the course in the future, or for any of our other upcoming Meetup events, you can find the CEEW Jewish Community Group by typing meetup.com in your computer, tablet or smartphone browser. Once you set up your account (your email address plus a password), join our group at www.meetup.com/Congregation-Emanu-El-of-Waukesha-Jewish-Community-Group/

Meetup dates will be listed on the temple calendar, in e-mail blasts, in the bulletin and on our public and private Facebook pages. If you are not a member of Meetup, but you would like to sign up for an event, please send your RSVP to marieloeffler@gmail.com.

trying it at five homes for the first time, and hope to expand it in the future.

I mentioned our deficit budget earlier. Those at the annual meeting received pledge/donor cards, and those who couldn't attend have received them by mail. We didn't raise dues and haven't for a number of years, but we continue to run deficit budgets. If we raised dues to fill in that deficit — the true cost of our programs and staff — we'd be asking $600+ per family (half that for singles); but we haven't. We hope members will contribute something extra, whatever you can, to helping fill that hole in our budget. The card lists everything from $18 (Chai) to many thousands of dollars. Please give what you can by August 1st. If you have questions about this special appeal, please contact Treasurer Alan Meyers at treasurer@waukeshatemple.org or 262-695-1823.

Finally, the Meetup page is exploding with activities this summer! I hope you sign up for it (www.meetup.com) and also check the Temple's calendar in your bulletin and at www.waukeshatemple.org/calendar. You can have a lazy, hazy summer if you like, or you can have a wonderfully engaging one with us at CEEW.

CHECK YOUR EMAIL: Weekly emails contain valuable information about our synagogue and what's going on. If you would like to include something that is of interest to other congregants, please contact Mark Levy at communications@waukeshatemple.org.

BRIDGETTE AND ALEXANDRA YOUSO: To Become Bat Mitzvah at 4:30 p.m. on Aug. 20th BAT MITZVAH! BAT MITZVAH!

It's Worth Saying Twice

By Adrian Richfield
Bulletin Co-Editor

To mark the religious training for a girl in Jewish life, one has a Bat Mitzvah, but what if it is two girls at the same time? From the same family? And they are twins?

This religious turning point for the Youso girls, Alexandra and Bridgette, will become a reality on Saturday, Aug. 20th. To publicly fulfill this opportunity, one is called up for the reading of the Torah. The young girl now has religious rights extended to her and takes full responsibility for the observance of all the precepts and commandments in the Jewish faith.

These two girls are ready to embark on this venture.

Bridgette Youso, a.k.a. Bree, will be an eighth-grader this fall at Brookfield Academy where she has gone to school since elementary grades. Her favorite subject is science, and her favorite extra-curricular activities are volleyball in the fall and track in the spring. Her best track events are the 100 meter, 200 meter and the 4x100 relay.

She plans to finish high school at Brookfield Academy, and may like to study some form of psychology in college.

Besides doing a lot of homework (middle school is harder than high school, she thinks), Bree likes to watch TV, especially cartoons, but does find some time to read, usually fiction. Hanging out with friends includes lots of game-playing, especially outside at night when they play a serious game of "hide and seek" in the dark.

She dislikes short hair and is determined to keep hers in a longish mode, but remembers clearly when she was in elementary school she decided to just cut a little bit of her hair herself. The result was a horrendous mess and necessitated a short haircut by a professional. That could have been her last short hairstyle. No one at school could believe she had short hair.

When she is able to do some traveling besides up to Door County where the family enjoys some summer fun time, Bree is interested in going to Iceland to see the famous volcanoes. She also thinks Sweden has a "cool" government, and would like to travel to the other Scandinavian countries as well. Our cold Midwest winters must be something she enjoys, but a summer visit to Scandinavia would be a great trip.

The one thing she cooks at home is scrambled eggs. She found an interesting recipe that includes lemon juice as part of the ingredients along with the usual milk, butter, salt and pepper. She claims that you don't really taste the lemon but it adds a lot to her recipe for Bree scrambled eggs.

She is preparing for her Bat Mitzvah with her tutor, Ann Meyers. According to Bree, Mrs. Meyers is "always doing good things and is such a positive person". She has helped out a lot with her preparation for the big event. Her portion of the Torah deals with exploring the Ten Commandments and she calls it the "nagging parents" portion.

Mrs. Meyers commented: "Bree has taken to learning how to chant Torah and haftarah as few students do. She has a knack for it and enjoys the challenge of learning the less common trop. She also has a lovely voice and I've enjoyed working with Bree very much."

Although she may be a little nervous on that day, she knows this Bat Mitzvah is part of three important things in Jewish life: life, death and becoming a Bat Mitzvah. The Youso Bat Mitzvah project will be collecting and donating school supplies to a deserving educational facility.

Alexandra Youso, a.k.a. Allie, is also going into eighth grade at Brookfield Academy this fall and has no favorite subjects in school because she likes them all.

She also plays volleyball in the fall, and enjoys the Game Club at school where she likes to play a variety of board games, including chess. She likes plays and dramas and was in the school play "Peter Pan" this year where she and Bree played the Raccoon Twins. I guess the word twin will be an integral part of her life in both daily and recreational life experiences.

Allie would like to attend an Ivy League university and study engineering and / or technology.

Allie also likes to watch TV, read fiction and hang out with her friends. She had early piano and violin lessons, and has been taking guitar lessons for the past three years.

She enjoys eating potatoes in any form and all kinds of potato dishes. Although potatoes are her favorite food, she also likes pepperoni pizza, caramel candies and Heath bars — she has a sweet tooth. Her favorite restaurants are the ones up in Door County where her family often vacations.

Like her sister, she would love to travel to Iceland and the Scandinavian countries some day. Maybe Al Johnson's restaurant in Door County, which is Swedish, has something to do with her future travel plans.

One thing you might not know about Allie is that she is an ambivert. What is this? Well, she is part introvert and part extrovert: hence, she is an ambivert. She actually does not like a lot of social interaction at times and prefers spending time by herself when she can.

Mrs. Deb Hacker is her Bat Mitzvah tutor and Allie has found her to be very helpful and meticulous in mixing up all the material to keep it interesting. She finds the hour very diverse and she likes that a lot.

Her Torah portion is also part of the Ten Commandments. Mrs. Hacker commented: "I have known Allie since she was in my 3rd / 4th-grade Sunday school class. During tutoring sessions she works diligently learning her Parsha and prayers, practicing difficult passages over and over until she gets it correct. I appreciate her punctuality and pragmatic attitude toward her lessons."

She is very happy to have this Bat Mitzvah experience because her mother, Karyn, was the first in her family as a girl to have one, and her grandmother was very proud of her.

Her grandmother now will be even more proud as she watches her granddaughters become a Bat Mitzvah just as her daughter did when she was young.

BEACH service

Bring your lawn chairs to the Schumans on Aug. 5th and welcome the Sabbath while watching the sunset

AT A GLANCE

What: Beach Shabbat Service
When: Friday, Aug. 5th at 7 p.m.
Where: Home of Mary & Phil Schuman
Note: Bring along a Lawn Chair if you can

Oneg: The Schumans will host the Oneg Shabbat
RSVP: By Aug. 1st, to Mary at mschuman@prodigy.net

Seven years ago, Marsha Fensin and Ann Meyers came up with the idea of having a member-led summer Beach Service on a Friday night.

Mary and Phil Schuman hosted that first one at their lakeside home, and have been hosting ever since — even hosting the Oneg Shabbat each year.

The service was so popular that it quickly began being led by Rabbi Adams — and this year will be led by Cantor Martin for the first time.

Synagogue members and guests can bring lawn chairs to the Schuman backyard by the shores of Lake Nagawicka and welcome Shabbat while watching the sunset.

This year's outdoor service will be held at 7 p.m., rain or shine, with plans to move indoors, if necessary. There is grass parking, and the backyard is wheelchair accessible.

JOIN FELLOW CONGREGANTS IN CHEERING FOR THE BREWERS: The Temple's annual visit to Miller Park will take place Thursday, Aug. 11th. The Brewers will take on the Atlanta Braves starting at 1:10 p.m. See form on page 13 for details.

SISTERHOOD

CINDY LEVY / Sisterhood Co-President

MANY ACTIVITIES TO BE OFFERED

Thank you to all of the CEEW Sisterhood members who attended the 2016 CEEW Sisterhood Annual Meeting. Thank you also to Sandra Small, Barbara Dailey and June Kulakow for planning the affair. The Sisterhood had a lovely brunch at the North Star Bistro in Brookfield and then proceeded to hold a meeting outside the restaurant in what turned out to be windy, cold weather after a sweltering day. Who would have expected that? My apologies for freezing everyone out in June!

The CEEW Sisterhood elected a slate of officers for the 2016-2017 calendar year after reviewing the past year and thanking the 2015-2016 board for their wonderful service. The following are the new CEEW Sisterhood officers for the term starting July 2016:

- Co-Presidents: Cindy Levy and Carol O'Neil
- Vice President: Sandra Villa
- Vice President: Denise Stodola
- Treasurer: Barbara Dailey
- Recording Secretary: Judy Shabman
- Immediate Past President: Alice Lambie

As we move forward, the CEEW Sisterhood will be continuing to offer many of its current activities, as well as offering new activities such as the PJ Library program in conjunction with the Youth Education Committee. But to be successful the Sisterhood board needs the support of all of the women in the Congregation. Please consider joining the Sisterhood. To obtain a Sisterhood membership application, email ceew_sisterhood@yahoo.com or contact Alice Lambie at 262-695-1225.

You will hear more from the membership committee soon. Besides joining the CEEW Sisterhood, consider becoming active in one or more committees. Whether you have a little time or a lot of time, we can find a place for you. And ask any CEEW Sisterhood member, we have fun doing it!

The Women of Reform Judaism (WRJ), the parent organization of our Sisterhood, is holding an Area Day conference on July 17th at Congregation Emanu-El B'ne Jeshurun. This conference provides a great opportunity to meet Sisterhood members from other synagogues, and educational and leadership opportunities. Last year a number of women attended the conference in Madison and had a wonderful time. Stay tuned for more information.

Wishing everyone a good summer. We hope you will join us to make CEEW an exciting place to be!

RITUAL COMMITTEE SEEKS MEMBERS: The Temple's Ritual Committee is seeking new members. If interested in joining this important group, contact committee chair Mari-Claire Zimmerman.

Todah Rabbah – Many Thanks to . . .

Thank you to all involved in what Mari-Claire Zimmerman called "One of the nicest Confirmation services I have seen" on June 10th.

The major players were the Confirmands – Natalie Hirsch, Josie Jauquet, Noa Raimond and Cece Youso – and Cantor Martin, who hit a home run in developing the service in her first year with us. Thank you to Josie for accompanying Cantor Martin with her flute on several selections, and to Noa whose piano piece was beautiful.

Thank you to Mari-Claire for her piano playing during the service, and to the Confirmation parents – John Hirsch and Tracey Buckner, Ilene and Patrick Jauquet, Beth and Rich Raimond and Karyn Youso for providing a wonderful Oneg Shabbat.

Helping lead the Confirmation service on June 10th were, from left: Cece Youso, Josie Jauquet, Noa Raimond, Cantor Martin and Natalie Hirsch.

- Thank you to Sisterhood, especially Program Chair Diana Stroshine, and to the Adult Education Committee for bringing musician and songwriter Marc (Lil' Rev) Revenson to CEEW for an end-of-the-year celebration concert on May 21st. And thanks to all the people who brought delicious desserts.
- Thank you to Adult Education Committee members for their work in bringing the "Three Perspectives on Poland" event to the temple on May 11th. On the committee are co-chairs Adrian Richfield and Elaine Goldberg as well as Cindy Levy, Sandy Villa, Sandy Greenberg, Alice Lambie, Marcia Kasza, Phil Musickant and Marie-Claire Zimmerman. And thanks to the three speakers – CEEW Religious School principal Phil Musickant, Milwaukee Journal Sentinel publisher and president Elizabeth (Betsy) Brenner and Milwaukee businessman H. Carl Mueller. The speakers, all of whom took trips to Poland last year, also answered interesting questions from a good-sized audience.
- Thank you to all those who made weekly contributions that made the food bin overflow.
- Thank you to Ellyn Lem and Trevor Huskey, along with friends and relatives who baked and brought goodies as the family hosted the Oneg Shabbat on May 27th in honor of Cole Huskey's Bar Mitzvah the following day.
- Thank you to Cole Huskey for making the delicious Challah for the May 27th Oneg Shabbat. And thanks to Ilene Jauquet for helping Cole.
- Thank you to Marie Loeffler, Rick Steinberg and Ian Schulman, with content help from Lori Fisher and others, for the development of our Meetup page. Marie put in countless hours on the page.
- Thank you to the Bledstein family, which hosted the June 3rd Oneg Shabbat in memory of Natalie's father, George Weissensel.
- Thank you to the 2015-16 Board of Trustees, which sponsored the breakfast before the June 5th annual meeting.
- Thank you to David Rubenstein for transporting a guest who wanted to attend the service on June 10th from her home in West Allis to the temple and back home.
- Thank you to Mari-Claire Zimmerman, for leading the Friday night service on May 27th.

LANDSCAPING

Thank you to everyone who help make the landscaping around the temple look so nice.

On a warm, sunny day, you might see green-thumb people such as Ady Richfield, Sandy Villa, Elaine Goldberg, Phil Musickant and / or Joe Dailey working on the grounds. Thank you to Marsha and Lee Fensin for transplanting hostas and ferns from their yard to our grounds.

And thank you to Marie Loeffler and her father Rick for helping with outside cleanup on June 5th.

SCHOOL

Thank you from Principal Phil Musickant to "everyone who stepped up to make the salad and get lunch ready" on the last day of school.

Thank you from Religious School Principal Phil Musickant to (1st / 2nd-grade teacher) Lori Fisher "for the excellent time-capsule project."

Thank you from a family of a sick young boy who was the recipient of our 1st / 2nd-grade class's tzedaka money this year.

SISTERHOOD

Thank you to outgoing members of the Sisterhood Board: Marsha Fensin (past president), Marcy Hotz (vice president / gift shop) and Diana Stroshine (programming).

SUNSHINE COMMITTEE NEEDS YOUR HELP: If you are aware of a CEEW member who needs a condolence or a get-well card, send an email to Sisterhood Sunshine Committee co-chair Marcia Kasza at marciackasza@yahoo.com.

TEMPLE BULLETIN DEADLINE: The 10th of each month (Send to: Joe Dailey and Adrian Richfield)

Congregation Emanu–El of Waukesha
830 West Moreland Boulevard
P.O. Box 731
Waukesha, WI 53187

CONDOLENCES

George Weisensel was a kind man with a strong sense of ethics.

Weisensel, the father of Natalie (Noah) Bledstein and grandfather of Samantha and Nathan, died May 31st at age 88.

Cantor Martin led a memorial service on June 3rd prior to the regular service.

Weisensel had been a Marine and worked as a farmer and as a mechanic for John Deere. Natalie said he was a hard worker who enjoyed riding motorcycles, playing cards and singing in a choir.

He had 11 children, 29 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The members and staff of Congregation Emanu-El of Waukesha send condolences to the family. May George's memory always be for a blessing.

STONE SETTING

The dedication of Rosetta Sweed's headstone will be at 11 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 7th, at Second Home Cemetery. Everyone is welcome to join the family.
